An accident to a freight train occurred in Augusta, Monday morning. One of a long train of freight cars by some means was thrown from the track, and the jar from this threw off three others, broke the stakes of the open cars and threw their loads of lumber wildly about. About a dozen passengers in the saloon car at the rear were severely shaken, and one young lady—Miss Pollard of Winslow—sustained some temporary ill effects from the shock.

At the meeting in Portland, Friday evening, in favor of the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad, it was stated that the contractors have agreed to build the road for $2,300,000—half cash and half bonds, after deducting an amount of $250,000 cash agreed on as a reserve for land damages, etc. This would give the company control over only $1,100,000 of bonds to be exchanged for city bonds: the city to be secured against loss by a surrender of all the unissued stock, and the road to be in the hands of trustees.

Biddeford is quite excited over a highway robbery which occurred on Birch St., Saturday night. The victim was an Englishman, named William Wells, a native of Birmingham, Eng., and has been in this country but a few months. Two men enticed him into an out of the way place, knocked him down, beating him severely about the head, and robbed him of seven dollars in money and other valuables. The robbers dragged their victim to a neighboring doorstep and left him, and here he was found and cared for. A man has been arrested, giving his name as Martin Judge, whom Wells identified as one of the robbers.

AID TO SHIPBUILDING.

CIRCULAR FROM THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

The Treasury Department has issued a circular to Collecters of Customs and others to carry into effect the provisions of the tenth section of the Tariff act of June 6, which provides that from and after its passage, all lumber, timber, hemp, manilla and iron and steel rods, bars, spikes, nails, and bolts, copper and composition metal which may be necessary for the construction and equipment of vessels built in the United States for the purpose of being employed in the foreign trade, including the trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States, and finished after the passage of the act, may be imported in bond under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, and upon proof that said materials have been used for the purposes aforesaid, no duties shall be paid thereon, provided vessels receiving the benefit of this section shall not be allowed to engage in the coastwise trade of the United States more than two months in any one year, except upon the payment of the duties on which a rebate is allowed; [illegible] that all articles of foreign production [illegible] for the repair of [illegible] vessels engaged exclusively in the foreign trade may be withdrawn from bonded warehouses free of duty, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. Under this section the following regulations are prescribed:

SECTION 1. All goods, wares, and merchandise of the character mentioned therein, which are to be used in the construction and equipment of vessels built in the United States, shall be entered for warehouse and regular warehouse bonds taken. Upon the withdrawal of the goods a certificate or declaration of the person withdrawing shall be filed citing the fact that it is intended to so use the merchandise; the name of the vessel will also be given, the place where she is being built, and an indorsement will be made on the bond of the amount so withdrawn.

SECTION 2. Upon the completion of the vessel a certificate or declaration shall be filed with the Collector of Customs where such withdrawal shall be made, specifying the quantity of materials embraced in the withdrawal which have been used in the construction of the vessel, and if the Collector is satisfied that all the merchandise embraced in the withdrawal has been so used, he shall give a credit upon the bond accordingly. If only a portion has been so used, duties will be collected on the remainder. A similar provision will govern the action of Collectors of Customs in the withdrawal from warehouse of articles free of duty for the repair of American vessels engaged in foreign trade. The circular gives the forms of the certificate and the bond.

SECTION 3. Vessels navigating the waters of the United States elsewhere than on the northern, northeastern and northwestern frontiers, whether newly built or repaired, will be entitled to its privileges only so long as they continue to sail under a register. Whenever that document shall be changed for an enrollment and license, the Collector of the port at which the exchange may take place will collect the duties on which a rebate has been allowed.

SECTION 4. In case any vessel shall be voluntarily employed in the coasting trade more than two months in any year, the Collector of the first port at which she shall arrive thereafter, will collect the duties aforesaid; cautioning any parties disputing the right of such collection to protest in due form and to appeal to the Department.

SECTION 5. The foregoing regulations are applicable to vessels enrolled and licensed to engage in the foreign and coasting trade on the northern and northeastern portions of the United States, except so far as they relate to the register of vessels. In the case of such enrolled and licensed vessels, the enrollment will be marked and endorsed as herein prescribed. Upon the surrender of any register or enrollment marked as aforesaid, the officers of the Customs will similarly mark the document granted in its place, and copy thereon the indorsements for the current year.

SECTION 6. Before granting marine documents, officers of Customs will require to be produced if practicable, any document previously granted, and great care should be exercised that no vessel which has availed itself of the privileges of the statue shall obtain possession of documents not exhibiting that fact. No vessel not of the United States will be allowed to engage in the coasting trade under the provisions of the tenth section of the law.

AN ARTFUL DODGER

Our very humorous contemporary finds occasion in yesterday's issue to qualify its facetious remarks of the day before, by saying "We were rather hasty in attributing to 'gentle dullness' undisputed sway over the editorial columns of THE WHIG" We are pleased by its appreciation of our efforts and shall endeavor to afford our neighbor a tolerably lively entertainment for some time to come But in order to meet its requirements In that line it is highly desirable that our critic should keep time to its own music and not burrow its head in the sand whenever it is pressed uncomfortably hard Proficiency in anything, it evidently regards as better than nothing, and the art of falsifying and then dodging the responsibility seems to have been adopted as the specialty of the Commercial. This might have answered for the constituency of the "red hot Democrat, but it is hardly suited to a Liberal Republican organ, which we believe it now assumes to be When our neighbor lies, we are sorry, for lying is vulgar and unworthy of a Reformer but we cannot palliate the offence and when it lies about us we shall insist upon fastening it into its own pillory It will be remembered that we have generously refrained from taunting the Commercial with the very feeble parody on its loud and boasting promises, which its journalistic pretensions have afforded, but that it has seen fit to attack us with the charge of waning circulation and decreasing patronage" We are absolved therefore from all semblance of persecution in forcing a babbler of untruth to face the facts We intend to do so or fix the brand so plainly that no dodging will hide it

After its vicious assertion it has deliberately evaded our direct challenge to the proofs and in the three or four labored editorials that it employs in dodging around corners it fails to meet a single point of our indictment. The question of circulation was of its own raising and we have dared it to a publication of figures Its only reply is the citation of a discrepancy in the reports of two agencies, one of which by an error understated our list by some 300 copies We are ready to make this plain enough to invite the frankest disclosure from the other concern if they dare to make any. Our report to one agency several months ago was an actual circulation of 1800, and to another at a subsequent date 1824. One of the above erroneously credited us with but 1400 a number lower than this paper has reached for many years To the Commercial's query "Would not 1100 be nearer the true figure?" we reply that we have never issued less than 1700 copies on any day since the first of January and challenge our contemporary to state the lowest number it has issued during the same time although we know it dare not respond To the talk about stopping THE WHIG to take the Commercial we assert that that paper cannot name fifty such cases since its inception, although started with a fair field for Democratic favor The fact is that there are intelligent Democrats who know a good newspaper from a poor one and invest their money accordingly

Will the Commercial exhibit a slight spark of self respect and meet our flat imputation of falsehood and our assertion that we are ready to prove our daily circulation larger than a year ago our weekly issue more than doubled and both increasing? We have challenged you to an open comparison of figures come out squarely with the facts confess that you dare not, or stand convicted of deliberate and intended falsehood

The modest individual over the way says THE WHIG is "disgusted with the prominence of the editor of the Commercial" which may well be true as the only prominence that editorial politician has attained has been of a very 'disgusting character The prominence which attracts the attention of "Committees of Seventy" in New York and of Vigilance Committees in Maine, is generally 'disgusting" to respectable citizens, and the audacity of Boss Tweed in defiantly reopening his Americus Club in the Metropolis which he robbed is only paralleled by the coolness of the editor of the "Bangor Democrat" in assuming to be an exponent of liberal, loyal and progressive sentiment We think the editor had better descend from his new pedestal long enough to clear up the issue of veracity which we have tried to present in the plainest manner Dare you meet us with the figures?

REUNION OF THE ELEVENTH MAINE REGIMENT.

BUSINESS MEETING—PUBLIC EXERCISES AT MUSIC HALL—ADDRESS BY GENERAL H. M. PLAISTED, POEM BY HON DAVID BARKER—BANQUET AT THE BANGOR HOUSE.

About one hundred of the survivors of the Eleventh Maine Regiment arrived in town Tuesday to be present at the first reunion of their regiment, held yesterday. Notwithstanding the rain all were in good spirits, from meeting old comrades and once more grasping the hands of those who had passed through the dangers and vicissitudes of the war and were now able to meet for a social reunion

At 9 A. M the members met at Music Hall to transact business and hear from those present. The meeting was called to order by Captain Albert Maxfield of New York city, General J A Hill of Forestport, N Y., was elected Chairman, Adjutant Henry A Fox of New York, Secretary A Committee on Toasts was then appointed by the chairman, consisting of the following gentlemen Capt. Wm Sewall of Bath, and Col S B Bean of Brownfield

After the appointment of the committee the members began calling on each other for remarks, allowing no one to refuse and greeting each speaker with cheers All expressed the great pleasure afforded them in once more meeting their old comrades, each referred to old memories and scenes and closed by saying that this must not be their last reunion At the close of the remarks a committee was appointed to wait on Mr F M. Sabine and tender him the respects of the regiment, of which his deceased son was an honored member, after which the meeting adjourned to meet at half past 11 o'clock for the public exercises

Owing to the rain there was a small attendance of citizens on the public exercises. The assembly was called to order at half past 11 by Adjt Henry A Fox, who briefly stated the circumstances which brought about the reunion He congratulated the members on the general good health and thrift which appeared to attend them, closing by nominating Gen'l J A Hill as chairman The nomination was received with such cheers as only soldiers know how to give The Chairman then called on the Chaplain of the Regiment, Rev. James Wells of Northbridge, Mass, to offer prayer

GEN H M PLAISTED was then introduced and received by three times three cheers. The address of Gen Plaisted was very carefully prepared and an able effort. That it was fully appreciated, the frequent and hearty applause given by the members fully attested. He began by giving the history of the organization and the departure of the regiment for active service He referred to many incidents and reminiscences of the earlier campaigns in which the regiment participated Passing from this to the battle of Fair Oaks, he described graphically the terrible carnage of the battle and the gallantry of the regiment in the action, giving full details of all the movements and position of the troops The seven days battles before Richmond were presented clearly and forcibly, giving all particulars pertaining to the regiment, and touching allusions to those killed and wounded The history of "The Swamp Angel" was given fully, stating how the foundation on which this monster gun rested, was laid, that those chosen to work it were taken from the Eleventh Regiment, giving a description of the hardships and sufferings which these brave fellows underwent, and many incidents connected with the history of this gun and the execution it did Tracing up the various battles and fights in which the Eleventh Regiment took a prominent part The course of the regiment through the campaign against Richmond in 1864–65, and the enumeration of fights connected with it were given briefly but with great clearness In the address the following tribute was paid to the memory of Capt. Frances W. Sabine, of this city, who was wounded in the battle of "Deep Bottom", Va, August 14th, and died of his wounds

Capt Sabine entered the service as Second Lieutenant of Co. E He was soon after promoted to First Lieutenant, and after the Peninsular campaign advanced to the grade of Captain—taken from his own company when there was no vacancy and commissioned in another company He won an honorable distinction in the Peninsular campaign — For gallant conduct at battle of 'Fair Oaks" he was specially mentioned and his exploits narrated in the official reports of his Regimental, Brigade and Division Commanders. Through all the active service of the regiment Capt Sabine was with it and one of its most efficient and respected officers In every capacity in which he served, as Provost Marshal, Judge Advocate of Courts Martial or advocate for the accused before the same, and as Commanding Officer, he won an enviable reputation in the army, for ability, integrity and gallantry. The ability which he displayed and the success which attended him as advocate before the Military Courts gave sure promise of high rank and a distinguished career for him in his chosen profession of the law, had he lived

As a commanding officer, he had no superior of his grade, and few of any grade, His business capacity, his aptness for command, his high sense of honor, his genial disposition and courteous bearing towards all, secured for him the entire confidence and respect of his superiors, and the love and devotion of his men—a devotion which only the truly gifted can win from brave hearts

Knowing his brilliant talents, his rich promise, and how much he had to live for, we cannot but lament his early death, though he fell as fall the valliant, gloriously in front of battle, for his native land

[We regret that the length of the address prevents its publication entire, but we shall hereafter give some interesting extracts.]

At the close of the address the Chairman introduced Hon. David Barker, Poet of the occasion, who was received with loud cheers by the assembly. The following poem, which he prepared especially for the occasion, drew from the audience frequent and rapturous applause

'OLD WILLEY'

Who cares in this crowd what a Homer says
Of the warring men in the ancient days,
What matters it now to you or me
Though the Iliad or Odyssey
May tell of the time when a Trojan corse
Was tramped by the foot of a Grecian horse,
Though the epic song of the bard may state
How Achilles fell at the Scaean Gate?
But it startles a world that I am come down
To tell of a man from my native town
Of a man obscure unknown and plain
But who once belonged to the 11th of Maine!

When Slavery, pressed by Freedom hard
Fired up the heart of a Beauregard
And the first red shot on Sumter fell
And the Eagle screamed like a scream from hell,
When her shriek went out o'er vale and crag
As she clung like death to the dear old Flag,
And the first kind look she got, was one
From a man named Robert Anderson,
I felt somehow and I wrote and said
That we had a big old trouble ahead
With all my faith in God and such
With all my religion, and that wan't much,
My faith wan't clear and my hope wan't light
Till Daniel E Willey went into the fight

They called him 'Old Willey," up there I'm sure
'Tis a term oft used when our clothes get poor—
He laid the wall and he sawed the wood
For me and others in the neighborhood,
He never could lecture and never could speak
One word of grammar and couldn't read Greek,
Though he dwelt in that old school house, 'tis true,
Where the old road butts at the avenue.
Through his leaky boots you could see his feet
As he toiled for hardly bread to eat,
For many a palm can never hold
The sordid dust that is scraped from gold.
Though he felled the trees and he tilled the lands
With his brawny arms and his horny hands,
It never entered a soldier's brain
That Willey would ever fight or train,
And never getting a draft or call
He sawed the wood and he laid the wall

One day to my village two men rode down—
Yes, both came over from Steteon town,
And one was General Hill, I believe
He hadn't on then that empty sleeve
I could tell them quick that he wouldn't yield
For a one right arm on the Deep Run field,
And the other [illegible] with hail, they say
Was General Plaisted, who talks to-day
The Willey and I were standing o'er
(He sawing wood) near my office door,
As the men from Boston town rode by
A [illegible] high,—
With his traitor line to the startle, air
He kissed the flag that was floating there.
[illegible] Old [illegible]
And his old saw dropped from the half-sawed wood,
Then he [illegible] round his big head, [illegible]
And he [illegible]
And his [illegible]
[illegible]

And these tough words from the old man boiled
Says he "Did you hear h w that devil hissed
By Jesus, Squire, I'm going to enlist"
Though he split huge logs, he couldn't stand
The thought of a rift in his native land,
And he did enlist, for the brave old soul
With his name on the gallant Plaisted's roll
For the cast of a die for a loss or gain
With the gory, famed old 11th of Maine,
For a mortal fray with his kith and king
Left a dying wife and a child behind,
Marched out to the front where he fought and bled,
And he came back maimed and he now is dead.
With his folded arms he lies so still
In a cold, sound sleep on the Crowell Hill —
I wish I knew if he felt the least
As he felt when our Fathers' flag was hissed,
For his slumbers there 'neath a beetling crag
By the side of the one who kissed the flag

As we go all pale, with the boatman, o'er
In our final voyage to the other shor—
Mid the fearful surge of the rolling tide,
Sometimes you know,
That friend and foe
Will crouch and cuddle down side by side.

In the last review, somewhere beyond
Of the world's grand army train,
When the books are read to an anxious throng
And they call for the 11th of Maine,
And the Judges come to Willey's case,
Looking so wise and grim,
Unless by some strange force they rout,
And crush this life's remembrance out,
Or blot those scenes of warring strife
When battling for a Nation's life
And from my soul wipe every trace
Of love for Country, Home and Race,
If any part of me is there,
In the face of every power I swear
If Willey finds no credit given
Behind those balance sheets in Heaven,
For fighting in the 11th of Maine,
And reaps thereby no single gain—
Although a spirit death I die
With loss of immortality,
Should I find his case was going hard
I'll help the old man "run the guard"
Ere the gold gate swings on him

When Mr Barker sat down the assembly rose to their feet and gave three rousing cheers for the "Bard of Exeter" after which they adjourned to meet at the Bangor House at 3 o'clock.

BANQUET AT THE BANGOR HOUSE.

The reunion banquet was fully attended and the results showed that the boys had not forgotten how to draw rations. F. M. Sabine of Bangor, father of the lamented Captain F W Sabine, Hon Lewis Barker and David Barker, Esq, were present as invited guests.

Capt. S G Sewall read the first regular toast:—

The Maine Eleventh, its Officers and Privates:—As they were united in their devotion to their country, they are inseperable in all the triumphs of patriotism over treason.

Responded to by Gen H. M Plaisted He had occupied so much of the time that he felt he should not trespass further,—but it was the 11th Maine, and a tribute of honor was always due to the gallant 11th. He paid a tribute to the veterans who re enlisted in the field. They stood by their country until the last gun was fired.

He related incidents of heroism and endurance, to the truth of which all present could testify, and which were greeted with hearty applause

He closed by reading a poem entitled "The Lumbermen of Maine." The second regular toast was:—

The old Flag of the Regiment, battle stained and torn —It is glorious in all that rejoices the hearts of our countrymen.

Responded to by Capt S W. Lane of Augusta He said he was too full for utterance Those of his comrades who had sat nearest him at this festive board, could appreciate his feelings. He had expected to respond to a sentiment of honor and respect for the ladies, and come charged with a perfect torrent of eloquence upon that charming subject, and felt deeply for the disappointment they must feel in being deprived of that little speech. He said the old flag is truly embalmed in the hearts of all who have marched to victory beneath its folds Would that it hung over us now, that we might, by its presence, be inspired again, and again with that same devotion to comrades and country which has so nobly dared danger and death, and has inscribed upon its folds the memory of many a fiercely fought field. The old flag has been hung upon the walls of the Capitol, stained and torn,—stained, but not with dishonor; stained, but with the patriotic blood of its defenders. It is tattered and torn, but enough of it is left to tell to remote ages how the brave boys of Maine fought and conquered under its glorious folds.

The third toast was:—

Our honored dead —While we greet with heartfelt joy our comrades to-day, let us not forget those brave hearts which have ceased to beat, whose lives were a willing sacrifice for the life of their country. Their names shall ever be fresh in our memories, and our children's children shall not forget the honored dead of our brave old Regiment.

Responded to by Chaplain Wells, who said it was eminently proper in our festivities, greetings and rejoicings that we remember those who sacrificed their lives in the defence of their country. Their memories are dear to us, we cherish them with much affection. But there are those to whom they were more dear than to us as companions in arms—Widows, orphans, fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters,—for their sakes we should remember them. The wife of our much loved surgeon asks in her letter, "Will it be too much to ask, that those who cannot answer the roll-call here should be remembered?"—Mr Wells closed by reciting a hymn sung on a recent decoration day.

Adjutant Henry O. Fox, of New York, in response to loud calls, read a poem by Col John Hay.

Major Beane, of Brownfield, presented the following.—

Our invited guests, some of whom are very good biters as well as Barkers.

Responded to by Hon. Lewis Barker, in a characteristic speech to which nothing but a verbatim report would do any sort of justice, and even that would fail for it could only be appreciated by being heard.

David Barker, Esq, was called for. He said he thought he had said his speech. In response to repeated calls, he recited his poem. "The Old Ship of State."

General Plaisted read letters from Maj. Gens R S, Foster, A. H. Terry; B. F. Butler, Q. A. Gilmore, Chaplain H. Clay Trumbull, and Quartermaster W. H Andrews Capt. Sewell also read one from Lieut. J. A. Smith.

A committee of fourteen was raised to make arrangements for a future reunion.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the projectors of this the first reunion of the Regiment A vote of thanks was also tendered to Gen Plaisted, for his able historical address, and to Hon. David Barker, for his interesting poem.

Voted that the Secretary give at least three months notice to the Association of the next reunion. The members of the Regiment separated well satisfied with the results of their meeting, and determined to meet again hereafter.

Georgia has been counted as one of the States most likely to vote for the Democratic candidate in November, but a report how comes from that State that the leading Democrats repudiate Greeley, and will not vote for him under any circumstances. This confirms the assertions of Georgia men at the Cincinnati Convention, that so far as their State was concerned, Greeley was the most unpopular man that could be put in nomination. The Democrats, by nominating him, are likely to lose some of the States that they would otherwise have carried, and to gain nothing any where.

THE GENEVA ARBITRATION.

LONDON ADVICES

London, June 26 Despatches from Geneva to the London papers state that the Tribunal will meet again at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

THE AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVES, in consequence of the confusion of cipher despatches, misapprehended the intention of President Grant and Secretary Fish, who did not definitely withdraw the claim for indirect damages

THE BOARD AVERSE TO A LONG ADJOURNMENT

The majority of the Board of Arbitrators are unfavorable to the longer adjournment of the Tribunal than a fortnight.

THE ENGLISH REPRESENTATIVES will leave Geneva Friday, and it is therefore supposed that an important decision will be given by the Board Thursday.

THE DAILY NEWS

to day says that America agrees to being non suited in her case before the Board of Arbitration so far as indirect claims are concerned

TUESDAY'S SESSION—AN INFORMAL MEETING.

Geneva June 25 —[The Herald's special] The Tribunal assembled to day at 4 o'clock, and after an hour's session adjourned until Thursday forenoon. As the meeting was late to-day's proceedings were limited to a formal presentation of papers, and an agreement was made to discuss them fully Thursday

THE MISUNDERSTANDING

Apparently there has not been so correct an understanding between the United States Government and their Agent here as is required in a matter so delicate and important, and this misunderstanding has probably caused a rose-colored view to be taken of the future of the Treaty. Perhaps this has been caused by badly translated cypher despatches and consequent mistaken views at Geneva respecting what was intended at Washington It is only not because President Grant has withdrawn the indirect claims In fact a consequence of the muddled cypher telegrams is that future despatches will be sent by way of Brest

THE UNITED STATES WITHDRAWS NOTHING

A summary of the position is that the United States withdraws nothing of its claims Both parties are fairly before the Tribunal—England, however, persists in her demands for a long adjournment, but it may, however, be received, as certain that a long adjournment will not be granted

NO LONG ADJOURNMENT

I am positive that the majority of the Arbitrators will vote against the adjournment for a longer period than a fortnight.

ENGLAND FEARFUL OF THE VERDICT.

NEW YORK June 26 A Geneva correspondent under date of June 6th says that the impression there is that the British Government has ascertained that judgment will be given by the Court of Arbitration in favor of the United States on all of the various counts

THE LONDON PAPERS

London, June 26 The Echo this afternoon says that notwithstanding the misapprehensions by the American representatives of the intentions of their government relative to the indirect claims it has reason to believe that the Treaty of Washington is safe The Standard however is of an opposite opinion

WASHINGTON OPINIONS

WASHINGTON, D C, June 26 When the information was received last week that the Geneva Tribunal had decided that the claims for indirect damages could not come before the arbitrators, gentlemen here in high official positions considered that it was in effect a settlement of the question and terminated the pending negotiations relative to the additional article to the Treaty of Washington—This view, however, was based on the supposition that the decision to be formally announced at a subsequent meeting will be in accordance with the

REPEATEDLY STATED POSITION

of this government, namely, that the claims would not be withdrawn, and that they were presented, not as claims for which a specific demand was made, but as losses and injuries consequent upon the acts complained of and necessarily to be taken into equitable consideration in the settlement and adjudication of differences submitted to the Tribunal—In the diplomatic language used, the decision of what was equitable in the premises, the United States sincerely and without reservation surrender to the arbitrament designated by the Treaty.

THE ADDITIONAL ARTICLE

to the Treaty of Washington, as just published, is imperfect, the following paragraph having been accidentally omitted, viz

Whereas, The Government of the United States has contended that said indirect claims were included in the Treaty, &c"

The following is the vote on the amended article Yeas, Messrs. Alcon, Anthony, Bayard, Boreman, Buckingham, Caldwell, Cameron, Chandler, Clayton, Cragin, Ferry, of Conn, Ferry, of Mich, Flanagan, Frelinghuysen, Gilbert, Hamilton, of Ind, Hamlin, Harlan, Hill, Hitchcock, Johnson, Kellogg, Logan, Morrill, of Me, Morrill, of Vt., Morton, Norwood, Nye, Patterson, Pomeroy, Pool, Pratt, Ramsey, Ransom, Schurz, Scott, Sherman Stockton, Vickers, West, Wilson, Windon and wright.—43

Nays Messrs. Casserly, Corbett Davis, of W Va, Edmunds, Hamilton of Texas, Kelley, Sumner and Tipton—8

Absent or not voting—Messrs. Ames, Blair, Brownlow, Carpenter, Cole, Conkling, Cooper, Davis of Ky, Fenton, Goldthwaite, Howe, Lewis, Osborn, Rice, Robertson, Saulsbury, Sawyer, Spencer, Sprague, Steven s, Stewart, Thurman and Trumbull—23.

NEW JERSEY

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

TRENTON, N J, June 26 The Democratic State Convention organized with Charles Haight (Greeleyite) as President. The committees were appointed and the Convention took a recess until this afternoon

EX GOV RANDOLPH'S ADDRESS

After a recess, ex Gov. Randolph was chosen permanent chairman He made an address, saying that the Baltimore Convention will be composed of men actuated by a higher motive than merely "beat Grant," and although the action of the Convention was probably a foregone conclusion, yet he thought this State Convention would act wisely in not expressing any opinion as to candidates at Baltimore He said the recent conference at 5th Avenue Hotel was not a fiasco, but was held to ascertain whether it was practicable to unite all the elements of the opposition to Grant, as Greeley's nomination had not accomplished that desideratum He believed, however, that Greeley would be nominated at Baltimore, but he would only occupy the high office while the power would be again relegated to the people

The Convention then proceeded to nominate delegates at large to the Baltimore Convention, with the following result Theodore F Randolph, John P Stockton, Leon Abbott and Charles Haight. District delegates were also chosen.

RESOLUTIONS

were adopted eulogizing the Democratic party and asserting the need of its restoration, inviting the co-operation of all opponents of the present administration, and favoring a return to the principles of Jefferson, Madison and Jackson, asserting the right of local self-government, opposing centralization, endorsing the Cincinnati platform so far as it agrees with this, and instructing the Committee to co-operate with all opposed to the present administration.

ILLINOIS.

THE SPRINGFIELD CONVENTIONS.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill, June 26. The city is crowded with delegates to the State Democratic and Liberal Republican Conventions which meet here to day. It is generally conceded that both Conventions will unite in nominating a Liberal Republican candidate for Governor. It is believed that ex-Governor Koerner will be nominated, although a strong effort will be made in behalf of Senator Trumbull. Neither Convention will probably do more than organize to-day.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

met at the Opera House at noon and organized by the choice of Hon. J. C Allen of Crawford as temporary chairman, who urged a spirit of conciliation looking to union with another Convention.

The Democratic State Convention re assembled at 2 o'clock P. M, when the chairman announced that representatives from the Liberal Republican Convention were in the hall waiting to make a report to the Convention The announcement was greeted with cheers The delegates in question were escorted to the chair amid tumultuous applause and announced that the Liberal Convention now in session had appointed a committee of 19, one from each Congressional District, to confer with a similar committee from this Convention upon questions of interest to this State The announcement was greeted with long continued applause.

The committee on permanent organization submitted a report nominating Hon. J. C. Allen, the temporary chairman, for permanent President of the Convention Col. Daniel Cameron and James Ryker, Vice Presidents for the State at large, with additional Vice Presidents from each Congressional District; J. H Richberg of Cook county, permanent Secretary, with a number of assistants.

The roll was called for the appointment of a committee of conference to meet a similar committee from the Liberal Republican Convention.

The committee on credentials reported all the counties fully represented.

The following delegates at large to the National Convention were elected.—

W. F Coolbaugh of Cook, J. J Phillips of Montgomery; Aaron K. Shaw of Richland, A. M. Craig of Knox, also a full district delegation. The delegates were instructed to cast their votes for Greeley and Brown

THE LIBERAL CONVENTION

met at noon in Representatives Hall and Governor Palmer was chosen temporary chairman, who read a letter from Carl Schurz regretting inability to attend, denouncing "Grantism," arraigning the party in power and expressing earnest sympathy with the effort to unite the opposition to the present administration as the embodiment of despotism It concludes:—

Whether we be able to accomplish all we desire or not we certainly can accomplish this, if for that purpose we unite in an energetic effort, and our success will be a great step in the right direction. Although I cannot be with you to-morrow I hope to co-operate with you to that end in the course of the present canvass. (Applause)

Very respectfully, C. SCHURZ

Three cheers were then given for Mr Schurz.

THE FUSION CONFERENCE.

Mr. Wentworth moved that the conference committee notify the Democratic State Convention that a committee of conference had been appointed and the Convention authorized the committee to confer with a committee to be appointed by the Democratic Convention to promote the objects for which both bodies were assembled.

THE CINCINNATI PLATFORM

was unanimously adopted (cheers) and the Cincinnati candidates endorsed amid great enthusiasm. The Convention then adjourned till 3 o'clock

A BOLT IN ADVANCE.

The Chicago Times, one of the leading Democratic organs of the West, comes out in a double-leaded editorial, flatly bolting the Greeley combination at Baltimore. It takes the ground that the nomination of Greeley by the Baltimore Convention, is a foregone conclusion, and that the result is due to the manipulations of place hunters and wire pullers, who have effectually packed the Baltimore Convention for him. "Such being the outlook," the Times says, "the nomination of Mr. Greeley at Baltimore will terminate the organic existence of the Democratic party In that act the party organization will abdicate its functions, and of course, with such abdication, the idea of party allegiance will cease, for there is no such thing as party allegiance to men, to candidates, or to conventions, such allegiance is due only to principle. Party organizations are nothing but instrumentalities by which some aggregate number of persons seek to carry certain principles into effect. When the instrumentality ceases to act for that purpose, or is perverted by scheming individuals to a different purpose, as the nomination for office of a declared enemy of the principles of the party, it ceases to exist as a party authority. The nomination or indorsement of Mr. Greeley at Baltimore will, therefore, place no one holding Democratic principles under the slightest obligation to cast his vote for Mr. Greeley ... It will be ... the surrender of all its delegated authority to the members who delegated it, to be used by each and all of them as in their own judgment may seem proper, and thus leaving the Democrats wholly without an organization, and perfectly free to act as to each individual shall seem fit."

In another article the Times eulogizes William S. Groesbeck, and asserts that his nomination at Baltimore would insure the defeat of Grant, while the Indorsement of Greeley assures Grant's election.

Crosby pro se. Wm. H. McCrillis

Henry C. Goodenow, Assignee of Norton, Bankrupt, vs. Chas A Cushman.

This was an action to recover $100 paid by Norton to Deft towards the purchase of a horse of one Jones, for the bankrupt, within six months of proceedings in bankruptcy, when, as the plaintiff contended, defendant well knew Norton was insolvent and for the purpose of preventing the property from coming to the Assignee to be distributed for the benefit of creditors

The case was submitted to the Court, without the intervention of the Jury and upon defendant's examination in bankruptcy taken before the Register. The price paid for the horse was $225, the balance of which sum deft advanced to Jones with the agreement that deft should hold the title until the bankrupt paid him the money so advanced. The bankrupt returned the horse in his schedule of assets as his own property, and without disclosing the title in deft. There was also another horse included in the schedule which was set apart to the bankrupt as exempted property.

Under these circumstances the Court held that the property was subject to the operation of the statute and the payment of the money by the bankrupt was not such a violation of the bankrupt law as to render the defendant liable to the Assignee

Plaintiff, nonsuit.

THE JAMESON GUARDS.

The Boston Evening Traveller of Tuesday gives the following account of the arrival of the Guards, in that city, and their intended movements:

The Jameson Guards, one of the finest and best drilled companies of militia in the State of Maine, arrived at this city from Bangor this morning by the steamer Cambridge. The Guards number fifty six men, rank and file, and are dressed in a becoming uniform of blue, trimmed with buff and gold, with the Massachusetts regulation dress hat and white plume, tipped with blue. Their officers are Captain Daniel White and Lieutenants James Deane and Charles D. Clark, and they escort an honorary staff composed of the following gentlemen, under the command of Col. A. L Smith. Lieut. H. M. Pishon, Capt. F. M Rowe, Lieut. Jacob Stern, Lieut. W. E Brown, Lieut. E A. Perry, R. G. Rollins, F H. Small, S. A Alden and Major H. A. Reynolds. A color guard of nine stalwart men, in red coats and bearskin hats also accompany the Guards. The Guards speak very highly of the courtesies which were tendered them by the officers of the steamer on the passage hither. The grand saloon had been most beautifully decorated for the occasion, a valance of blue and white pending from the roof, and ornamental emblems being appropriately displayed at the corners and sides Flags of all nations have been most gracefully intertwined under the direction of Mr George J. Wight, steward of the steamer. An excellent portrait of Captain Charles B Sanford, owner of the line, hangs at the head of the main staircase. After arrival, the Guards partook of an excellent breakfast on board the boat, and were then welcomed by a committee of the Montgomery Guards, consisting of Messrs. I. A. Furey, F Dougherty, T. Bradford and M. W. Veale. A procession headed by the Bangor Cornet Band, twenty six pieces, under the lead of Mr. A. D. Horlow and a drum corps of six pieces, was formed and marched through India, State, Court, Chambers, Green, Leverett and Causeway streets, to the Eastern Railroad depot where, at ten o'clock, the cars were taken for Lynn The superior music of the band and the excellent marching of the men attracted universal praise, and was the subject of great gratification to the friends of the company in this city. The Guards have all seen service in the rebellion, and form as fine a body of men as can be assembled together in New England. In Lynn they will be guests of the Wooldredge Cadets, who paid a visit to Boston some time ago, and will receive a handsome reception, including a public dinner and ball. The Guards will leave Lynn about noon to-morrow, arriving in Boston in season to take the 2 o'clock train for Providence, which they will reach about 4 P. M. As the Guards go there principally to see the city, they will probably spend the evening in looking about for themselves, though there is talk of a parade and exhibition drill in connection with one of the Providence companies. At 7 o'clock Thursday morning the Guards will take train for Boston, arriving at 8.50, and being received by the Montgomery Light Guard, who will escort the visiting company to their armory, which has been kindly tendered as headquarters during their stay in Boston. In the afternoon the Jameson Guards will visit the Coliseum by special arrangement, after the Jubilee concert returning to the steamer and embarking for home.

RECEPTION IN LYNN.

From the Lynn Reporter we learn that the Guards were received at the station on Tuesday forenoon by the Cadets, and escorted by Company I, and the Lynn Brass Band, marched through the principal streets to City Hall, when Mayor Buffum delivered an address of welcome to which Captain White briefly responded, the Guards giving the "Bangor" cheers for the Mayor and the city The companies were then photographed, and afterwards partook of a collation at City Hall, subsequently marching through the city The Reporter says:

"The Bangor company is composed of a fine-looking body of men, who appear to have the the true military "snap" to them. They make a splendid appearance, being accompanied by the Bangor Cornet Band, and a staff of military gentlemen and citizens of Bangor. An attractive feature of the corps is the color-guard, composed of nine stalwart veterans, dressed in the elegant red uniform and bearskin caps of the Bangor Infantry, bearing with them the American flag and company colors. The flags of all nations were displayed upon two lines extending from the armory of the cadets across Market street, a large American ensign in the centre bearing the word "Welcome" Another line of flags extended from the balustrade of the building to the top of the flagstaff The City Hall and several other buildings were decorated with flags and bunting, showing the cordial feeling entertained for the friends of the Wooldredge Cadets.

A special states that the Jameson Guards gave an exhibition drill on Lynn Common Tuesday afternoon, with dress parade, etc, and the following account of the Banquet is given.

At 5 30 the invited guests were taken under escort, and after a short parade marched to Cadets Hall, where a bountiful dinner was served Among the invited guests present were Gen. Banks, Dr. G. B. Loring, Hon. J B. Alley, Gen. J. L. Hall, of Maine, Col B. F Peach, Lieut. Col. F. E. Porter, and many other prominent citizens. Divine blessing was invoked by Rev. C. W. Biddle, after which the company partook of the refreshments After dinner, Lieut Frye spoke in behalf of the Wooldredge Cadets, and Capt. Bachelder appointed Charles E. Parsons toast master.

The first regular toast, "Our Commonwealth," was responded to by Gen. Banks, who spoke very favorably of the militia, and hoped the regiments would be made more of a unit.

"Our Country" was responded to by Dr G. B. Loring in his usual happy manner

"The Government of our Country" was responded to by Hon. J B. Alley, of Lynn, "The State of Maine," by Gen. J. L Hall, "The City of Lynn," by Mayor Buffum, "The City of Bangor," by Mr. Perry of the Bangor Wing, "The Eighth Regiment," by Col Peach, "Our Companions, Companies D and E of the Eighth Regiment," by Capts. Newhall and Kimball, "Our Past Members," by Capt. Adams, "Our Honorary Members," by Alderman W. D. Poole of Lynn, "The Honorary Members of the Jameson Guards," by Capt. Pegg, "Our Fallen Heroes," dirge by the band, "The Press," was responded to by W. S. Post of the Little Giant of Lynn.

The affair was a very pleasant one, and was greatly enjoyed by those present. The Jameson Guards will leave Lynn to-day (Wednesday) by the noon train, in time to take the two o'clock train for Providence, where a hearty welcome awaits them

The Boston Journal gives an extended account of the arrival of the Guards in that city, and referring to their return to Boston Thursday as the guests of the Montgomery Guards, it says.

It is the intention of the companies to make a parade through our principal streets, and no doubt the lovers of good marching will watch the movements of these crack companies. Judging from the wheels and marching of ... the ... companies will find a worthy rival in the ...

ers. The change arms on the march of this company was very good The Guards on Tuesday paraded as a batallion, Capt White acting Major Sixty-three men constitute the active members, and about forty accompany them as staff and invited guests

On Thursday afternoon the Guards will visit the Coliseum with their honorary staff, returning in time to take the 5 30 boat for home

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

The Louisville Ledger (Dem.) claims a victory substantially for the straight-out Democrats in the Kentucky Convention

Voorhees absolutely refuses to go to Baltimore, and firmly says "I would rather, of a dark night, risk the perilous edge of some Alpine precipice, on a drunken mule

An easy conundrum—"What is the difference to-day between the New York Tribune and a regular dyed in-the-wool Democratic paper?"

Cassius M Clay's canvass for Greeley in Kentucky does not seem to prosper A Democratic paper there says "he cannot win over the negroes, and his ideas are not palatable to the Democrate"

On October 15, 1867, Horace Greeley wrote thus:

"To smoke is a Democratic virtue, to chew is that virtue intensified, to drink rum is that virtue in the superlative"

The average Democratic stomach finds little difficulty in swallowing and retaining the author now, all nausea being overcome by a mirage in the dim distance caused by innumerable post-offices

The Illinois State Journal says it receives from all parts of the State daily proof that Republicans who favored the Cincinnati movement are now turning away in sad disappointment.

Senator Alcorn of Mississippi, who has been claimed as a supporter of the Cincinnati ticket, has written a letter repudiating the claim and declaring his purpose to support Gen. Grant, whose re election he regards is as beyond peradventure.

The Terre Haute, Ind., Express says that a painful, but well authenticated report reaches it that the candidate for Vice-President on the Greeley ticket has once more abandoned his total abstinence, and is in imminent danger of again indulging in buttered water melon as soon as the season fairly opens

An old darkey was leaving the Court House yard at Louisville, Ky, the other day, during a speech by Cassius M. Clay, and upon being remonstrated with for doing so, said "Don't talk to me; I done heard Cash Clay tell seven lies, and now I'm gwine. I got enough of that sort of thing."

The Philadelphia Age says "An influential and well informed Democrat of New Jersey writes to us 'I have become better satisfied than before that there are a great many Democrats who will not vote for Greeley, making the loss of New Jersey almost certain'"

It must be admitted, says the Nation, that the nomination of Greeley by the Democrats will be, on the whole, the most ludicrous end which ever overtook a great organization. We know of nothing in sacred or profane literature to which it can be likened, except the rush of swine, in the New Testament, "down a steep place into the sea," when the devils entered into them.

Henry Wilson is regarded as one of the most common sensible men in Washington, and the one quickest sent for to arrange any difficulty that may have arisen among friends He is inexpensive in his habits, and lives among his books and his friends, visits a great deal, reads much, never wines nor smokes, is warm hearted, generous and for giving, and altogether a good style of a man.—Philadelphia Press.

The Cincinnati Commercial asks the following conundrum. "If Mr Greeley were to promise not to appoint Charles F Adams to a place in his Cabinet, as the Irish People demands, or if he were to pledge himself to appoint a Cabinet of seven Democratic members, as the New York World demands, how many Republican votes would he get at the election?" We give it up.

The Pittsburg Commercial propounds his political conundrum "What is the significance of the fact that Mr. Greeley is so warmly supported by the secession leaders generally, by Tammany Hall to a man, and debauched political leaders of both parties generally? The fact is too conspicuous to be without a reason, and what that reason is people who pay attention to politics want to know What is it?"

Lord Dufferin, the new governor general of Canada, arrived in Quebec Tuesday and took the oath of his office

GREELEY WIRE PULLING One of the chief manipulators of the Cincinnati Convention has been passing some time of late in New York, perfecting the necessary machinery for meeting every emergency which has been thought possible at Baltimore, and forcing the nomination of Mr. Greeley in face of possible opposition. This gentleman recently told his personal friends that everything was provided for, that the plans beforehand to force Greeley at Cincinnati were simplicity itself compared with those perfected for Baltimore, and that it was now regarded by those inside as an absolute impossibility for those among the old and influential Democrats who were known to be bitterly opposed to Greeley to devise any means by which they can compass his defeat He declared that the Greeley movement had already progressed so far among Democrats that the Democracy itself could not now control the matter, but that the Liberal Republican manipulators could force Greeley through in spite of all Democratic intriguers who might appear at Baltimore

WEBSTER

Pure Warm Air

FURNACE.

This new Furnace, having been THOROUGHLY TESTED for the last five years in New York, Massachusetts Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont and in this city the past winter, with the most flattering results, is now offered to the public of Bangor and vicinity with increased confidence in its merits.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS FURNACE

consist in its great radiating surface, whereby a large quantity of air is heated to a moderate degree of temperature, and delivered into the rooms with its vitality unimpaired

Its Quickness of Operation

A current of warm air issues almost immediately on starting or replenishing the fire while in most other furnaces no warm air is obtained from them until the thick iron plates or brick walls enclosing them are themselves well heated To heat a house of eight or ten rooms most furnaces consume from nine to twelve tons of coal, while the Webster Furnace to do the same work, needs only from four and a half to six and a half tons is such that the air is kept pure and not burned, and by means of a new patent double case, all the heated air is saved to warm the house above—not a particle of it is wasted in the cellar or allowed to pass off in the smoke pipe.

THEIR CONSTRUCTION

Those in want of a first class furnace are respectfully invited to call and examine the WEBSTER, and hear what reliable men of this city say who have used them

WER WENIG SUCHT, DER FINDET VIEL.

[From the German of Boeckert.]

BY FRIAR CLARKE.

Only a shiver for my head I sought
One stormy, winter night,
A cooling blessing of my life was brought
Under the sun's warm bright.
How shall I thank thee for a gift so sweet?
O dearest heavenly friend!
I ne'er a resting place for weary feet—
And I can find my journey's end.

Only the accident of a friendly door
My timid fingers knock,
A loving board, with all its precious store,
Is mine was opened wide.
I sought for refuge from a passing shower
My sun shall always shine;
I would have set beside the hearth an hour—
And the whole heart was mine!

THE FUNNIEST PROPOSAL OF THE AGE.—An official communication has been received in New York from the authorities at Vienna, who have in charge the grand Exhibition of '73. Struck with the wondrous versatility, genius, intelligence and success of Americans, the people of Europe have reached the conclusion that the universal genius of the universal Yankee Nation must be owing to the manner in which the children are brought up. It is proposed to have in the Exhibition a "Department for Children," and by this means to see if a genuine crop of Yankees cannot be grown in Vienna. Baron von Schwarzenovren, the President of the Exhibition, has written on for circulars, books, means of public instruction, and all the appliances used to develop the peculiar genius of American youth. He wants all the toys, school books and paraphernalia that develop moral and physical education. He offers to pay liberally for information and implements that will make the child's department a success. The idea of raising Yankees among the old institutions of Europe, with caste, nobility and orders retained, is laughable.

GOLDSMITH MAID.—The achievement of Goldsmith Maid is thus referred to by The Spirit of the Times: By reference to our trotting reports it will be seen that Goldsmith Maid, the champion of the trotting turf, and beyond all question the best horse that "bends the knee," has again beaten her own best time, having marked her famous 2.17, made last September at Milwaukee, down to the yet more unexampled time of 2.16¾. This exploit was performed at Mystic Park, Boston, over an unimproved mile track, in a regular race against another horse, in which she was subjected to fight for her position around the track, with weights up; the whole supervised by regular judges, admitted to fair dealing and report, by the rival interests of the betting world, backed by five timing watches in competent hands upon the judges' stand. The difficulties believed, and each one less than all these conditions united can make a record. And the gallant and beautiful mare, which is now the champion horse of Madame Rumor Vox-Populi, Esq., Herald, having met and triumphed, though there be all, must of necessity be regarded by the champion trotter of the world. The greatest mare Goldsmith Maid will take the same place in the affections of the public that Flora once possessed; and we likewise, regret the Passed at the Second Session of the Forty-second Congress.

(GENERAL NATURE—No. 69.)

AN ACT to authorize the construction of certain bridges across the Mississippi river, and to establish the same as post-roads.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it shall be lawful for the Western Illinois Bridge Company, a corporation existing under the laws of the State of Missouri, to build a bridge across the Mississippi river at the city of Quincy, Illinois, for the purpose of crossing persons and property, such as are usually crossed on railroad bridges, and also to lay on their said bridge railway-tracks for the more perfect connections of any railroads that are or shall be constructed to said river at or opposite said points, and that when constructed, all persons and property so to be said, and also all trains of all roads terminating at said river, at or opposite said point, shall be allowed to cross said bridge for reasonable compensation, to be paid to the owners of said bridge, under the limitations and conditions hereinafter provided; and in case of any litigation or alleged obstruction to the free navigation of said river, the cause may be tried before the district court of the United States of any State in which any portion of said obstruction or bridge touches; and that all railway companies desiring to use the said bridge shall have and be entitled to equal rights and privileges in the passage of the same, and in the use of the approaches thereto, and of all the depots approached thereto, under and upon such terms and conditions as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of War, upon hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties, in case they shall not agree.

SEC. 2. That said bridge may, at the option of the company building the same, be built either as a pivot draw-bridge, or with unbroken or continuous spans: Provided, That if the said bridge shall be built with unbroken or continuous spans, it shall not be of less elevation, in any case, than fifty feet above high-water mark, as understood at the point of location, for the bridge; nor shall the piers of said bridge be less than two hundred and fifty feet in length, and the piers of said bridge shall be parallel with the current of the river, and the main span shall be over the main channel of the river, and not less than three hundred feet in length, and provided also, That if said bridge shall be constructed as a pivot draw-bridge, the same shall be constructed with a draw over the main channel of the river at an accessible and navigable point, and with spans of not less than one hundred and sixty feet in length, in the clear, on each side of the central pivot pier of the draw; and the next adjoining spans to the draw shall not be less than two hundred and fifty feet, if the proper location of the draw over the channel will admit spans of this width between it and the shore, and said spans shall not be less than thirty feet above low-water mark, and not less than ten feet above extreme high-water mark, measuring to the bottom chord of the bridge, and the piers of said bridge shall be parallel with the current of the river: And provided also, That said draw shall be opened promptly, upon receiving the signal, for the passage of the boats whose construction shall not be such as to admit of their passage under the permanent spans of said bridge, except when trains are passing over the same, and in no case shall unnecessary delay occur in opening said draw during or after the passage of trains.

SEC. 3. That any bridge constructed under this act, according to its limitations, shall be a lawful structure, and shall be recognized and known as a post-route upon which, also, no higher charge shall be made for the transmission over the same of mails, troops, and munitions of war of the United States, than the rate per mile paid for their transportation over the railroads or public highways leading to said bridge, and the United States shall have the right of way for postal telegraph purposes across said bridge.

SEC. 4. That said company may execute a mortgage upon said bridge, and issue bonds, payable, principal and interest, in gold or United States currency.

SEC. 5. That the right to alter or amend this act so as to prevent or remove all material obstructions to the navigation of said river by the construction of said bridge, is hereby expressly reserved; and the said bridge shall be built under and subject to such regulations for the security of the navigation of said river as the Secretary of War shall prescribe; and the said bridge shall be, at all times, so kept and managed as to offer reasonable and proper means for the passage of vessels.

SEC. 6. That the plan and specifications, with the necessary drawings of said bridge, shall be submitted to the Secretary of War, for his approval, and he shall approve the plan and location of said bridge before it shall not be built or commenced; and should any change be made in the plan of said bridge during the progress of the work thereon, such change shall be subject to the approval of the Secretary of War; and all changes in the construction or any alteration of said bridge, that may be directed at any time by Congress, shall be made at the cost and expense of the owners thereof.

SEC. 7. That the Warsaw and Alexandria Bridge Company, their successors and assigns, a corporation existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Missouri, be, and is hereby, authorized to construct and maintain a bridge over the Mississippi river at said between the city of Warsaw, in Hancock county, and State of Illinois, and the city of Alexandria, in Clark county, and State of Missouri; and the bridge authorized to be built by this section is hereby declared to be a post-route, and shall have all the privileges and be subject to all the terms, restrictions, and requirements contained in the foregoing sections of this act: Provided, That the construction of the bridge mentioned in this section shall be commenced within eighteen months from the passage of this act.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That hereafter no contract or agreement of any kind shall be made by any person with any tribe of Indians, or individual Indian or Indians, not a citizen of the United States, for the payment or delivery of any money or other thing of value, in present or in prospective, or for the granting or procuring any privilege to him or here or any other person or persons in consideration of services for said Indians relative to their lands, or to any claims growing out of, or in relation to, annuities, installments, or other moneys, claims, demands, or things, under laws or treaties with the United States, or official acts of any officer, or any other matter connected with or due from the United States, unless such contract or agreement be in writing, and executed and approved in the manner hereinafter directed.

SEC. 2. That all contracts or agreements between an Indian party and for such purpose as named in the first section of this act shall be in writing, a duplicate or copy of which shall be delivered to each party thereto, as hereinafter provided. All such contracts shall be executed before a judge of a court of record and approved in writing thereon by the Secretary of the Interior and Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Such contract or agreement shall contain the names of all parties in interest, their residence and occupation; but if one be made with a tribe by their tribal authorities, the scope of authority and the reason for exercising that authority shall be given specifically. Such contracts or agreements shall state the time when and place where made, the particular purpose for which made, the special thing or things to be done under it, and, if for the collection of money, the basis of the claim, the source from which it is to be collected, the disposition to be made of it when collected, the amount or rate per centum of the fee in all cases; and if any contingent matter or condition constitutes a part of the contract or agreement it shall be specifically set forth: Provided, That all such contracts shall have a fixed limited time to run, and shall be invalid unless so limited: And provided, That such contracts shall not be assignable, in whole or in part, unless the names of the assignees and their residence and occupations be entered in writing upon the contract, and the consent of the Secretary of the Interior and Commissioner of Indian Affairs to such assignment be also indorsed thereon; and no power of attorney, or any contract, power, or writing executed shall certify officially at the time when and place where such contract or agreement was executed, and that it was in his presence, and who and his interpreter, if any was employed, to make it to him of the time, the parties present making the same; the name and official authority claimed by all the parties; that he fully explained to make the contents or agreement and power to each person or by agent of attorney of either party or parties.

SEC. 3. That no money shall be paid to any agent or attorney by an Indian or Indians under any contract or agreement, either for services rendered, disbursements, or for services rendered thereunder; but the same shall be paid to the Indian or Indians entitled thereto, or to their agent duly appointed by power of attorney executed in the presence of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, or such person as he may designate to act in his stead, and shall be paid in person at the agency of the tribe, or at the residence of the Indian, or at such other place as may be designated by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and not otherwise. Any contract or agreement, verbal or written, made with any Indian or Indians, or any power of attorney executed, or any money paid thereon, in violation of this act, shall be void and of no effect, and no claim shall be made by virtue thereof or based thereon against the Indians.

SEC. 4. That any person who shall be guilty of any violation of this act shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, at the discretion of the court, and shall forfeit the amount or value of the money, property, or thing so contracted for, or paid or delivered, or promised to be paid or delivered, for procuring any such claim in any executive department or the legislature.

1st MORTGAGE BONDS.

Issue Only $18,500 per Mile.

THE ROAD NOW EARNING OVER, NEARLY DOUBLE ITS ENTIRE INTEREST OBLIGATIONS.

THE LEADING POINTS IN RELATION TO THESE BONDS ARE AS FOLLOWS:

1 The Stockholders have built a first class road and equipped it in a first class manner, mainly with their own money.

They have built their road through one of the richest portions of the State, where all the old roads into Chicago are earn over $10,000 per mile per annum, and are paying large and regular dividends.

They have built the shortest road to the celebrated Block Coal Mines, whose products have large and increasing market in Chicago, in the manufacture of iron, as well as for domestic uses.

The road is already earning so large an excess of its interest liability that its Bonds are safe beyond contingency.

The amount of the mortgage is very moderate; being only about $18,500 per mile.

While Railroad Bonds may be plenty, those upon profitable lines, and for so small an amount, are seldom in the market.

Over $1,200,000 of these Bonds have been sold in a few weeks to Trust Companies, Savings Banks, trustees of estates, and the most careful private investors it would be needless to say that the inducements offered in this well established road by the Directors of this road are unusually large.

That as only a small amount remains unsold, parties who want them should make immediate application.

The Bonds are for $1,000 each, have forty years to run, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable on the first of April and October, both principal and interest being payable in gold in New York.

Price 90 and Accrued Interest.

We do not hesitate to recommend these Bonds as unusually safe. They are attended with none of the uncertainties of projected enterprises, and the prompt payment of the interest, and the final payment of the principal, are as certain as any future financial event can well be.

MISS SAWYER'S SALVE.

FEEL you have a salve combining soothing and healing properties, with no dangerous ingredients. A remedy at hand for the many pains and aches, wounds and bruises to which flesh is heir. Is more easily applied than many other remedies, never prodding a bad effect, but always relieving pain, however severe.

It is prepared by Miss Sawyer, who has used it in her own extensive treatment of the sick, for nearly twenty years, with great success.

The principal diseases for which this salve is recommended are, Chilblains, Rheumatism, Piles, Scrofula, Old Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Sprains, Burns, Fever Sores, Felons, Pimples, Erysipelas, Sore Eyes, Barber's Itch, Tetters, Boils, Ringworm, Corns, Bites of Insects, Cancers, Toothache, Earache, Sore Nipples, Baldness, Sudden Bruise, Itch, Scald Head, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Scalds, Cuts, Bruises, Crops, Cracked Lips, and Sores on Children

It never fails to cure Rheumatism if properly applied. Rub it on well with the hand three times a day. In several cases it has cured palsy in time. For Piles it has proved to be a sure remedy. Persons that have been afflicted for years have been relieved by a few applications. For Erysipelas it works wonders, allaying the inflammation and quieting the patient. For Chapped Hands it produces a cure immediately. Those afflicted with Cancers may have faith in Miss Sawyer's Salve, and apply it freely, and they will find it invaluable. It is good in cases of Scrofula and Salt Rheum. Those troubled with Fever Sores will find the Salve Sure to heal them. Those afflicted with Sudden Bruise or Wounds will find the Salve to be a sure remedy. For Burns and Scalds, apply the Salve at once and it gives immediate relief. For Old Sores, apply once a day.

Not among the least of the invaluable properties of Miss Sawyer's Salve are its beneficial effects on the hair. Rubbed on the scalp, in five or six different parts, it promotes the growth of the hair, prevents it turning gray, and on bald spots it produces a new growth of hair. No lady should be without this invaluable article as an indispensable commodity for the toilet. It eradicates dandruff and diseases from the head, and blotches and pimples from the face.

From Mrs. ELIZABETH COOMBS, Brunswick.

Brunswick, April 4, 1867.

MISS SAWYER: I received your Salve last evening, and was very glad you concluded to let me take your Salve. I think I can do well with it, and it will be of great use in accommodating my husband, as he cannot get along without it. He has tried everything else and has never found anything that healed his sores like your Salve. We have had it for both found it to be all, and even more, than you recommend it to be. We have had it in the family two years, and consider it invaluable in a family. If you can put this testimony together, and it can be of any service to you, you are welcome to it.

Yours, &c., ELIZABETH COOMBS.
